IMPORTANT: *During this pandemic, the shift to online learning has greatly altered teaching and studying at UBC, including changes to health and safety considerations. Keep in mind that some UBC courses might cover topics that are censored or considered illegal by non-Canadian governments. This may include, but is not limited to, human rights, representative government, defamation, obscenity, gender or sexuality, and historical or current geopolitical controversies. If you are a student living abroad, you will be subject to the laws of your local jurisdiction, and your local authorities might limit your access to course material or take punitive action against you. UBC is strongly committed to academic freedom, but has no control over foreign authorities (please visit <http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/vancouver/index.cfm?tree=3,33,86,0> for an articulation of the values of the University conveyed in the Senate Statement on Academic Freedom). Thus, we recognize that students will have legitimate reason to exercise caution in studying certain subjects. If you have concerns regarding your personal situation, consider postponing taking a course with manifest risks, until you are back on campus or reach out to your academic advisor to find substitute courses. Academic Calendar Entry:

PSYO 241 (3) Personality

Focuses on a variety of personality theories including psychoanalytic, behaviouristic, cognitive, humanistic, and trait perspectives. Methods of research and critical analysis of theoretical foundations and research.

Course Overview and Objectives:

This course will introduce students to concepts in personality psychology. The course will focus on a variety of personality theories including, but not limited to: psychoanalytic, behaviouristic, cognitive, humanistic, and trait perspectives. This course will also briefly explore approaches to the self, personality and social interaction, and disorders of personality. This course intends to provide students with a thorough understanding of these key concepts in personality psychology.

Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

- Discriminate amongst the main theories/themes pertaining to the history of personality psychology (Chapter 1)
- Interpret research methods and techniques used in personality psychology (Chapter 2)
- Recognize and describe personality in terms of traits and trait taxonomies (Chapter 3)
- Evaluate the relationship between genetics and personality (Chapter 6)
- Recognize and describe the physiological approaches to personality (Chapter 7)
- Recognize and describe the psychoanalytic approach to understanding personality (Chapter 9)
- Recognize and describe the motive-based + humanistic approach to understanding personality (Chapter 11)
- Recognize and describe the cognitive approach to understanding personality (Chapter 12)
- Illustrate the role of the self as it relates to personality (Chapter 14)
- Evaluate the relationship between personality and social interaction (Chapter 15)
- Illustrate the role of personality in terms of stress, coping, adjustment, and health (Chapter 18)
- Identify and classify disorders of personality (Chapter 19)

Course Format:

The contents of the lectures will be determined by the course schedule (see below). PowerPoint slides will emphasize the key points of the chapters and will provide clarification and explanation of course concepts. Assigned quizzes available via the Connect resource of the textbook will help to reinforce the key concepts and allow for class discussion. All lectures will be pre-recorded and uploaded to Canvas. The lectures will be available on Canvas for student viewing until the content-relevant scheduled midterm or final exam. It is the student's responsibility to view the lectures prior to their removal from Canvas.

IMPORTANT: Given the size of the class, the technological constraints in terms of bandwidth, and the various time zones students may be connecting from, lectures will be NOT be delivered during the scheduled lecture time. Instead, lectures will be pre-recorded and available for student viewing via Canvas. In order to engage with this course online, students are required to have a laptop or desktop computer and a stable Internet connection. A quiet space to view the recorded lectures and to write examinations from is also highly recommended. During the scheduled class lecture time, students will have the opportunity to meet and discuss course content and review more difficult concepts with their Teaching Assistants (TAs). After the add/drop date, students will be divided into groups and assigned to a one-hour timeslot. This will be their assigned timeslot for the term. Students will access the discussion group via Zoom. Attendance is not mandatory for these sessions but attending these sessions is highly encouraged.

As per UBC policy, all examinations must be completed during the scheduled course time (i.e., Wednesdays from 1:00-4:00 PM PST). Out of fairness to all students, there are no exceptions to this policy. The instructor will be available during all examinations via Zoom should students encounter technical difficulties. It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that any technical issues are reported to the instructor immediately. If you cannot connect with the instructor via Zoom, please document the issue or technical concern via a screenshot. This is the only circumstance in which it is appropriate to document (i.e., screenshot) exam material. Failing to report technical issues in a timely manner, may result in the issue not being resolved and may negatively impact your grade.

The examinations in this course are all closed-book, so you are NOT permitted to access any of the course materials, including your notes, during the exam. You are NOT to use any search engines or other programs except for the program required to complete the exam. You are also NOT to communicate with anyone about the exam during the schedule write time or after the examination – you are to work independently. If you violate these conditions you have engaged in Academic Misconduct and will be subject to the consequences articulated in the Academic Integrity section. Communication with other students (written, text, verbal, etc.) is not permitted and will constitute Academic Misconduct. Students will be asked to acknowledge the academic integrity pledge prior to completing the examination.

Students are asked to familiarize themselves with the academic integrity pledge found at this link: <https://ctl.ok.ubc.ca/teaching-remotely/final-exams/integrity-pledge/>

Examinations will utilize Respondus LockDown Browser (integrated in Canvas) which is a special web browser application that prevents students from navigating away from Canvas and accessing other applications while taking online quizzes or exams.

It is the policy in this course that final grades cannot be adjusted (through extra assignments or otherwise) in order to achieve a passing mark, higher letter grade etc. In order to maintain fairness within this course, requests for additional assignments as well as requests to round or “bump up” final grades will be denied.

Evaluation Criteria and Grading:

- 1) Exam #1 (20% of grade). The exam will cover Chapters 1, 2, & 3 of the course, including all lecture and textbook material. This exam will cover 3 chapters and will be out of 60 marks. This exam will be entirely multiple choice (20 questions per chapter). This closed-book examination will be completed via Canvas and will be proctored with Respondus Lockdown Browser software activated. Questions will be presented one at a time with the ability to skip questions and come back to previous questions. Students will have 90 minutes (1.5 hours) to complete the examination. The examination will take place during the scheduled class time.
- 2) Exam #2 (25% of grade). The exam will cover Chapters 6, 7, 9, & 11 of the course, including all lecture and textbook material. This exam will cover 4 chapters and will be out of 80 marks. This exam will be entirely multiple choice (20 questions per chapter) and is not cumulative. This closed-book examination will be completed via Canvas and will be proctored with Respondus Lockdown Browser software activated. Questions will be presented one at a time with the ability to skip questions and come back to previous questions. Students will have 120 minutes (2 hours) to complete the examination. The examination will take place during the scheduled class time.
- 3) Final Exam (30% of grade). The exam will cover Chapters 12, 14, 15, 18, & 19 of the course, including all lecture and textbook material. This exam will cover 5 chapters and will be out of 100 marks. This exam will be entirely multiple choice (20 questions per chapter) and is not cumulative. This closed-book examination will be completed via Canvas and will be proctored with Respondus Lockdown Browser software activated. Questions will be presented one at a time with the ability to skip questions and come back to previous questions. Students will have 150 minutes (2.5 hours) to complete the examination. The examination will take place during the scheduled class time.

- 4) Connect (Textbook) Activities and Assigned Modules (12%). A series of chapter-specific Connect activities will be assigned on Canvas for students to complete. The Connect activities will be integrated within Canvas for students to access. Each chapter's activities and modules are worth 1% for a cumulative total of 12% of the final grade (12 chapters x 1% = 12%). Please refer to the Course Schedule below for the deadlines for these Connect activities.
- 5) Canvas Quizzes (13%). A total of 13 quizzes will administered on Canvas, worth 1% each. There will be one quiz for each chapter, as well as a quiz at the start of the course. Please refer to the Course Schedule below for dates of these quizzes.
- 6) Sona (2% Bonus). See below for explanation of how to participate in Sona.

Final grades will be based on the evaluations listed above and the final grade will be assigned according to the standardized grading system outlined in the UBC Okanagan Calendar. The Barber School reserves the right to scale grades in order to maintain equity among sections and conformity to University, faculty, department, or the school norms.

Students should therefore note that an unofficial grade given by an instructor might be changed by the faculty, department, or school <http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,41,90,1014>.

Required Materials:

Available in the bookstore.

Larsen, R. J., Buss, D. M., King, D. B., & Ensley, C. E. (2017). Personality psychology: Domains of knowledge about human nature (2nd Canadian Ed.). New York, NY: McGraw-Hill Ryerson Limited.

Connect access, as pre-packaged with the textbook by the publisher, is required for this course. This resource creates an immersive learning experience for students via a collection of activities and modules. Students will be evaluated on the assigned content and will find it a helpful study tool for practicing and self-testing what is discussed both in lecture and in the textbook.

RESEARCH ACTIVITY (2% BONUS)

This course allows for 2% bonus to be added to your final grade. This requirement may be fulfilled either through direct participation in research through the SONA online volunteer subject pool (Option 1), by completing two written summaries of primary research articles (Option 2), or by a combination of the two types of activities.

Research Participation (Option 1)

As a participant in one of numerous Psychology Department Subject Pool experiments posted at <http://ubco.sona-systems.com/>, you will obtain 0.5% credit for each 0.5 hour of participation at UBCO. Hence, participation requiring a 1-hour time commitment provides a credit of 1%, 1.5 hours provides a credit of 1.5%, and 2 hours provides a credit of 2.0%, etc.

Important Requirements

You may participate in more than one experiment in order to accrue credits. In order to ensure that a variety of research methodologies are experienced, at least one [1] of the credit hours must be earned by participating in online questionnaires and at least half [0.5] of a credit hour must be earned by participating in an on-site study. In the event that you participate in a single listed study offering more than 1.5 credits for participation, this regulation will be waived. A substantial number of both types of studies are typically hosted on SONA; therefore, you will have many different choices. It is important to sign up for experiments early in the semester in order to increase the odds that a time slot is available. If you wait until late in the semester, all time slots may be taken.

Logging On To The System

SONA is only open for those students who are registered in a psychology course offering SONA credit. Please only use the request account option if you have never used the SONA system before. If you have used the SONA system before, please use the most recent login information you remember to log in.

Missed Appointments & Penalties

Missed appointments (i.e., failure to cancel the appointment at least 3 hours prior to the session) will be tracked. The consequence will be that you will not receive credit for participation in the experiment and will lose the credit value of the study from possible marks associated with participation in research. Please email psyc.ubco.research@ubc.ca with any questions or concerns that you may have regarding the SONA system, including unassigned bonus credits. Your professor does NOT have access to this information.

Research Summary Assignment (Option 2)

As an alternative to participating in a Psychology Subject Pool experiment, you may obtain subject pool credit by completing 1 library-writing project to a satisfactory level. Each library-writing project is worth a total of two credits [i.e., 2% toward the final grade].

Important Requirements

1. This project consists of reading and summarizing (in written form) a recent, peer-reviewed, primary research article.
 - A “recent” article has been published within the past 12 months.
 - A “peer reviewed” article is one that has been reviewed by other scholars before it is accepted – for example, it cannot be a news item, an article from a popular magazine, a notice, or a letter to the editor.
 - A “primary” research article describes an experiment or study where data are collected by the authors. In other words, the article you choose to review cannot be a book review, literature review, or summary article.
2. You must choose an article published by one of the following agencies:
 - The American Psychological Society - Psychological Science, Current Directions in Psychological Science, Psychological Science in the Public Interest, or Perspectives on Psychological Science.
 - The American Psychological Association - www.apa.org/journals/by_title.html has a full listing.

- The Canadian Psychological Association - Canadian Psychology, Canadian Journal of Behavioural Science, or Canadian Journal of Experimental Psychology.
- The Psychonomic Society - Behavior Research Methods, Cognitive, Affective, & Behavioral Neuroscience, Learning & Behavior, Memory & Cognition, Perception & Psychophysics, or Psychonomic Bulletin & Review.

3. Other Assignment Guidelines

The summary should be about 300-500 words in length. The source must be cited and referenced in accordance with the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). The review will be graded on a pass – fail basis (2% or 0%). At least 14 days before the end of classes each term, submit the following to the course instructor:

- the article summary
- a copy of the article
- a cover page that specifies your name, student number, email address, and word count of the summary.
- the course title and number

Submitting the assignment 14 days in advance is necessary to ensure that you have an opportunity to make corrections, if required. If you do not check your email frequently, provide a phone number on the cover page.

Missed Graded Work:

Students who, because of unforeseen events, are absent during the term and are unable to complete tests or other graded work, should discuss with their instructor how they can make up for missed work, according to written guidelines given to them at the start of the course. Instructors are not required to make allowance for any missed test or incomplete work that is not satisfactorily accounted for. If ill health is an issue, students are encouraged to seek attention from a health professional. Campus health and counselling will normally provide documentation only to students who have been seen previously at these offices for treatment or counselling specific to conditions associated with their academic difficulties. Students who feel that requests for consideration have not been dealt with fairly by their instructors may take their concerns first to the Head of the discipline, and if not resolved, to the Office of the Dean. Further information can be found at: <http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,48,0,0>.

IMPORTANT: Students who miss an examination must provide written documentation (i.e., doctor's note) of the absence to the instructor and must arrange to make up the exam before the next scheduled class. Students who do not write the exam by the next scheduled class will receive a "0" for the exam unless other arrangements have been made with the instructor.

Class attendance is not mandatory but is highly encouraged. All lectures will be recorded with the content available for viewing on Canvas. It is the responsibility of the student to stay up to date with the course content and to monitor Canvas for important announcements. A discussion board will be enabled on Canvas to allow students to communicate with fellow classmates and the instructor.

Course Schedule:

The below course schedule is considered tentative as the content covered each week may need to be adjusted to accommodate the pace of the course. The examination dates will NOT change, however, from what is posted in this course schedule.

Final Examination:

The examination period for Term 2 of Winter 2021 is April 16th – April 29th. Except in the case of examination clashes and hardships (three or more formal examinations scheduled within a 24-hour period) or unforeseen events, students will be permitted to apply for out-of-time final examinations only if they are representing the University, the province, or the country in a competition or performance; serving in the Canadian military; observing a religious rite; working to support themselves or their family; or caring for a family member. Unforeseen events include (but may not be limited to) the following: ill health or other personal challenges that arise during a term and changes in the requirements of an ongoing job. Further information on Academic Concessions can be found under Policies and Regulations in the Okanagan Academic Calendar (<http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,48,0,0>). Out-of-time examination forms can be found at (<https://ikbsas.ok.ubc.ca/student-resources/undergrad/student-forms/>) and must be sent to the Dean's office.

Academic Integrity:

The academic enterprise is founded on honesty, civility, and integrity. As members of this enterprise, all students are expected to know, understand, and follow the codes of conduct regarding academic integrity. At the most basic level, this means submitting only original work done by you and acknowledging all sources of information or ideas and attributing them to others as required. This also means you should not cheat, copy, or mislead others about what is your work. Violations of academic integrity (i.e., misconduct) lead to the breakdown of the academic enterprise, and therefore serious consequences arise and harsh sanctions are imposed. For example, incidences of plagiarism or cheating may result in a mark of zero on the assignment or exam and more serious consequences may apply if the matter is referred to the President's Advisory Committee on Student Discipline. Careful records are kept in order to monitor and prevent recurrences.

A more detailed description of academic integrity, including the University's policies and procedures, may be found in the Academic Calendar at the following link:
