Academic Calendar Entry

PSYO 380D (3) Self and Social Perception

Intensive examination of selected topics and issues in psychology.

Prerequisites: Two of PSYO 219, PSYO 220, PSYO 230, PSYO 241, PSYO 252, PSYO 270, PSYO 271, PSYO 298, PSYO 299. (or 6 credits of 200-level Psychology.)

Course Format: This course will be offered entirely online, with pre-recorded lectures uploaded to Canvas. Lectures will be posted by 11am on Tuesdays and Thursdays, when possible (note that technological or other issues may occasionally delay uploads; you will be advised in these cases). See the Course Schedule (pg. 7) for tentative topics and readings.

Classes will primarily be lecture format but there will also be demonstrations and videos. Material will be presented in class that is not covered in the readings.

Course Description and Learning Outcomes: This course examines the social and personality psychology literature emphasizing social perception - how people think about and make sense of their social worlds and the people in them, including themselves. We will cover topics including how well people know and like themselves, and the extent to which people understand others’ personalities, emotions, and thoughts and feelings.

By the end of the course, you should have:

- 1) A solid understanding of core social and personality psychology constructs related to perceptions of the self (the self-concept, self-knowledge, self-enhancement) and others (e.g., emotion detection, accurate personality judgments, lie detection).
- 2) Strong understanding of research methods and best practices in social and personality psychology research.
- 3) Awareness and understanding of current research and debates within the field.
- 4) The ability to apply social and personality psychology research to real world experiences and events.

Recommended Readings: There is no assigned textbook that you need to purchase. Weekly readings will involve chapters from edited volumes or handbooks that will be provided to you via Canvas. See the Course Schedule (pg. 7) for full details.

Requirements for Technology for Online Delivery of Courses:

In order to engage with this course online, students are required to have a laptop or desktop computer and a stable internet connection. Lectures will be recorded and posted to Canvas. Exams will also be completed online during the scheduled course time (i.e., starting at 11:00am PST on test days).

If you have questions or concerns about technological requirements or issues, these resources may be useful:

<https://students.ok.ubc.ca/academic-success/learning-hub/tech-support-for-online-learning/>

Contact Procedures:

Outside of office hours, if you have questions about the course content or requirements, before emailing your assigned TA or the professor individually, please first follow the steps below, to help us respond as efficiently and consistently as possible:

1. Check the syllabus. There is a lot of detailed information within this syllabus (and Lecture 1 slides and recording). If you ask a question that is covered in the syllabus/Lecture 1, you will be asked to review it.
2. Check/post on the discussion board on *Canvas to see if your question has already been answered and, if not, post your question there – the TAs will check Canvas and respond to questions daily, just as frequently as email.
3. If your email is of a more personal nature, please email your assigned TA or professor as appropriate. Emails sent to the professor that would be more appropriate for the TA will be forwarded to your TA. If your email is more appropriate for the professor, your TA will forward it for you or obtain a response for you. This helps ensure students are receiving consistent and timely responses.

Assessment of Performance

Type of assessment	% of grade	Assessment Date or Deadline
1.) Midterm 1	28%	February 8, 2022
2.) Midterm 2	28%	March 15, 2022
3.) Final Exam	40%	Final exam period (April 14 – 29)
4.) Paper (Optional)	15% (applied to lowest of above assessments)	March 25, 2022
5.) Survey Participation	4%	By noon the day after each lecture
6.) Research Activity	2% (Bonus)	Continuous

Midterm 1. The midterm will be held during regular class time (11:00am – 12:00pm) online via Canvas. The midterm will cover all content and readings assigned between January 11 – February 3, inclusive, unless otherwise announced. There will be approximately 40 multiple-choice questions, from both the lectures and readings.

Midterm 2. The midterm will be held during regular class time (11:00am – 12:00pm) online via Canvas. The midterm will cover all content and readings assigned between February 10 – March 10, inclusive, unless otherwise announced. There will be approximately 40 multiple-choice questions, from both the lectures and readings.

Final Exam. The date and time will be during final exam period (April 14th – 29th), as set by the University. The final exam will be cumulative, meaning that it will cover material from the entire course, including all assigned readings and lecture content. The exam will be cumulative but will emphasize content covered after the midterms. The final exam will include approximately 60 multiple choice questions.

Paper (Optional). This application paper will consist of a maximum four-page paper where you will describe and thoughtfully discuss the meaning and real-world importance of a concept (of your choosing) that we have covered in the course. If you choose to submit a paper, the weighting will come from the assessment with your lowest grade in the course. For example, if your lowest exam grade is Midterm 1, it will be worth 13% of your grade (instead of 28%). If your lowest grade is on the final exam, it will be worth 25%. If your lowest grade is on the paper, it will not count towards your final course grade.

Detailed instructions and rubric will be made available on Canvas well in advance of the paper due date. You are expected to work independently on this paper. That is, you must personally write all of the words in your paper and any sources you use must be appropriately referenced. Your paper may be submitted to a plagiarism detection software. Papers will be due on Friday March 25th by 11:59pm PST, and can be submitted directly to Canvas.

Survey Participation (4%). You have the opportunity to earn participation marks by answering questions (e.g., practice exam questions, sharing opinions, making predictions) after each lecture through Quizzes on Canvas. Answers to the questions will be incorporated into the next lecture to maintain an interactive environment. Your grade will be based solely on participation – your actual response need not be correct (and not all questions have a correct answer). See details in the announcements prior to Lecture 3 and corresponding slides. Surveys will begin after lecture on January 18th but will only count as of January 25th after the add/drop deadline.

- To participate in surveys, you can respond to questions anytime between their start time (no later than noon on the day of lecture) and their end time (noon of the following day). Thus, you will have at least 24 hours to complete the survey. There will be approximately 3-5 questions per survey.
- You are not permitted to respond on behalf of a classmate – because survey participation will be used to compute a portion of your grade, doing so constitutes an academic offense.
- To maintain a safe and respectful classroom environment, please ensure that any survey responses you submit are appropriate and relevant to the question asked. Please note that your responses are identifiable to the instructor.

SONA (2% bonus). See pages 11-12 of this syllabus for information how to participate in research or complete a research summary assignment to earn this bonus credit.

Exam Procedures: All exams will take place online and will be closed book. You will be required to use Lockdown Browser. You will have one hour to complete the midterms. You will have two hours to complete the final exam; time and date to be set by the university.

Additional Notes About Grades:

Final grades will be based on the evaluations listed above and the final grade will be assigned according to the standardized grading system outlined in the UBC Okanagan Calendar.

Please note I do not “round up” final grades. It is policy in this course that final grades cannot be adjusted (through extra assignments or otherwise) in order to achieve a passing mark, higher letter grade etc. In order to maintain fairness within this course, requests for additional assignments as well as requests to round or “bump up” final grades will be denied.

Barber School reserves the right to scale grades in order to maintain equity among sections and conformity to University, faculty, department, or the school norms. Students should therefore note that an unofficial grade given by an instructor might be changed by the faculty, department, or school

(<http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,41,90,1014>).

Missed/Late Assignments or Tests:

Accommodations (i.e., make-up tests; assignment extensions) will not be given unless there is a valid reason for missing the initial assessment date or deadline. Lack of planning, simultaneous assignments, or other conflicts do not qualify as valid reasons and instructors are not required to make allowance for any missed test or incomplete assignment (i.e., quiz, activity) that is not satisfactorily accounted for. Please contact your instructor as soon as possible if you need to request an accommodation. In the occurrence of an unforeseen event (e.g. emergency hospitalization; illness; death in the family), you must contact your professor about the matter no longer than 24 hours after the missed test or assignment deadline. If ill health is an issue, students are encouraged to seek attention from a health professional. Campus Health and Counselling will normally provide documentation only to students who have been seen previously at these offices for treatment or counselling specific to conditions associated with their academic difficulties.

Missed Tests: Students who miss a test must provide written documentation (i.e., doctor's note) of the absence to the instructor and must arrange to make up the test within one week of the original test date. Students who do not write the test by this time will receive a grade of "0". If you do not have a valid reason for missing a test, you will also receive a "0".

Late Papers: The optional paper due date is indicated on the course schedule. Extensions will not be given except in valid circumstances (described above). For every day that the assignment is late without a valid excuse, I will deduct 5 percentage points from your grade for that assignment. If a valid excuse is given, students will have 48 hours from the due date to submit the late assignment.

Students who feel that requests for consideration have not been dealt with fairly by their instructors may take their concerns first to the Head of the discipline, and if not resolved, to the Office of the Dean. Further information can be found at:

<http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,48,0,0>.

Technical Issues During Tests/Examinations:

As per UBC policy, all midterms must be completed during the scheduled course time. Out of fairness to all students, there are no exceptions to this policy. The instructor and/or TA will be available during all tests/examinations via email should students encounter technical difficulties. It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that any technical issues are reported to the instructor immediately. If you cannot connect with the instructor via email, please document the issue or technical concern via a screenshot. This is the only circumstance in which it is appropriate to document (i.e., screenshot) exam material. Failing to report technical issues in a timely manner may result in the issue not being resolved and may negatively impact your grade.

Academic Integrity Examination Policies for Closed-Book Exams:

The examinations in this course are all closed-book, so you are not permitted to access any of the course materials, including your notes, during the exam. You are not to use any search engines or other programs except for the program required to complete the exam. Nor are you to communicate with anyone – you are to work independently. Communication with other students (written, text, verbal, etc.) is also not permitted. If you violate these conditions you have engaged in Academic Misconduct and will be subject to the consequences articulated in the Academic Integrity section (see below).

Final Examination:

The examination period for Term 2 is April 14th – 29th. Except in the case of examination clashes and hardships (three or more formal examinations scheduled within a 27-hour period) or unforeseen events, students will be permitted to apply for out-of-time final examinations only if they are representing the University, the province, or the country in a competition or performance; serving in the Canadian military; observing a religious rite; working to support themselves or their family; or caring for a family member. Unforeseen events include (but may not be limited to) the following: ill health or other personal challenges that arise during a term and changes in the requirements of an ongoing job. Further information on Academic Concessions can be found under Policies and Regulations in the Okanagan Academic Calendar (<http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,48,0,0>). Out-of-time examination forms can be found at (<https://fass.ok.ubc.ca/student-resources/undergrad/student-forms/>) and must be sent to the Dean's office.

Academic Integrity: The academic enterprise is founded on honesty, civility, and integrity. As members of this enterprise, all students are expected to know, understand, and follow the codes of conduct regarding academic integrity. At the most basic level, this means submitting only original work done by you and acknowledging all sources of information or ideas and attributing them to others as required. This also means you should not cheat, copy, or mislead others about what is your work. Violations of academic integrity (i.e., misconduct) lead to the breakdown of the academic enterprise, and therefore serious consequences arise and harsh sanctions are imposed. For example, incidences of plagiarism or cheating may result in a mark of zero on the assignment or exam and more serious consequences may apply if the matter is referred to the President's Advisory Committee on Student Discipline. Careful records are kept in order to monitor and prevent recurrences.

A more detailed description of academic integrity, including the University's policies and procedures, may be found in the Academic Calendar at <http://okanagan.students.ubc.ca/calendar/index.cfm?tree=3,54,111,0>.

A Note Regarding Online Learning: During this pandemic, the shift to online learning has greatly altered teaching and studying at UBC, including changes to health and safety considerations. Keep in mind that some UBC courses might cover topics that are censored or considered illegal by non-Canadian governments. This may include, but is not limited to, human rights, representative government, defamation, obscenity, gender or sexuality, and historical or current geopolitical controversies. If you are a student living abroad, you will be subject to the laws of your local jurisdiction, and your local authorities might limit your access to course material or take punitive action against you. UBC is strongly committed to academic freedom, but has no control over foreign authorities (please visit <http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/vancouver/index.cfm?tree=3,33,86,0> for an articulation of the values of the University conveyed in the Senate Statement on Academic Freedom). Thus, we recognize that students will have legitimate reason to exercise caution in studying certain subjects. If you have concerns regarding your personal situation, consider postponing taking a course with manifest risks, until you are back on campus or reach out to your academic advisor to find substitute courses. For further information and support, please visit: <http://academic.ubc.ca/support-resources/freedom-expression>

UBC Okanagan Disability Resource Centre: The Disability Resource Centre ensures educational equity for students with disabilities and chronic medical conditions. If you are disabled, have an injury or illness and require academic accommodations to meet the course objectives, please contact Earllene Roberts, the Diversity Advisor for the Disability Resource Centre located in the University Centre building (UNC 214).

Land Acknowledgment:

The online learning environment means that members of our course community are connecting from all over the world. Wherever you may be connecting from, please take a moment to acknowledge the land or territory that you are working and studying from and be grateful for the opportunity. The Okanagan campus is situated on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territory of the Syilx Okanagan Nation, so for me, I acknowledge and respect the privilege I have to work and live in this territory. If you are interested in learning more about the land or territory you are living and working from, I encourage you to do so at this link: <https://native-land.ca>

UBC Okanagan Equity and Inclusion Office:

UBC Okanagan is a place where every student, staff and faculty member should be able to study and work in an environment that is free from discrimination and harassment. UBC prohibits discrimination and harassment on the basis of the following grounds: age, ancestry, colour, family status, marital status, physical or mental disability, place of origin, political belief, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or unrelated criminal conviction. If you require assistance related to an issue of equity, discrimination or harassment, or to get involved in human rights work on campus, please contact the Equity and Inclusion Office.

Student Learning Hub:

The Student Learning Hub (LIB 237) is your go-to resource for free math, science, writing, and language learning support. The Hub welcomes undergraduate students from all disciplines and year levels to access a range of supports that include tutoring in math, sciences, languages, and writing, as well as help with study skills and learning strategies. For more information, please visit the Hub's website (<https://students.ok.ubc.ca/student-learning-hub/>) or call 250-807-9185.

Office of the Ombudsperson for Students:

The Office of the Ombudsperson for Students offers independent, impartial, and confidential support to students in navigating UBC policies, processes, and resources, as well as guidance in resolving concerns related to fairness.

Email: ombuds.office@ubc.ca

SAFEWALK:

Don't want to walk alone at night? Not too sure how to get somewhere on campus? Call 250.807.8076
For more information, see: www.security.ok.ubc.ca

Sexual Violence Prevention and Response Office (SVPRO):

A safe and confidential place for UBC students, staff and faculty who have experienced sexual violence regardless of when or where it took place. Just want to talk? We are here to listen and help you explore your options. We can help you find a safe place to stay, explain your reporting options (UBC or police), accompany you to the hospital, or support you with academic accommodations. You have the right to choose what happens next. We support your decision, whatever you decide.

Visit svpro.ok.ubc.ca or call us at 250.807.9640

Independent Investigations Office (IIO):

If you or someone you know has experienced sexual assault or some other form of sexual misconduct by a UBC community member and you want the Independent Investigations Office (IIO) at UBC to investigate, please contact the IIO. Investigations are conducted in a trauma informed, confidential and respectful manner in accordance with the principles of procedural fairness.

You can report your experience directly to the IIO via email: director.of.investigations@ubc.ca or by calling 604.827.2060 or online by visiting investigationsoffice.ubc.ca

RESEARCH ACTIVITY

Students earn Sona credit from participating in research activity. This can be either through direct participation in research through the Sona online volunteer subject pool (Option 1), by completing summaries of primary research articles (Option 2), or by a combination of the two types of activities.

Research Participation (Option 1)

As a participant in one of numerous Psychology Department Subject Pool experiments posted at <http://ubco.sona-systems.com/>, you will obtain 0.5% credit for each 0.5 hour of participation at UBCO. Hence, participation requiring a 1-hour time commitment provides a credit of 1%, 1.5 hours provides a credit of 1.5%, and 2 hours provides a credit of 2.0%, etc.

Important Requirements

You may participate in more than one experiment in order to accrue credits. It is important to sign up for experiments early in the semester in order to increase the odds that a timeslot is available. If you wait until late in the semester, all timeslots may be taken. IMPORTANT: Please note, due to concerns related to COVID-19, only online studies will be hosted on Sona.

Logging On To The System

Sona is only open for those students who are registered in a psychology course offering Sona credit. Please only use the request account option if you have never used the Sona system before. If you have used the Sona system before, please use the most recent login information you remember to log in.

Missed Appointments & Penalties

Missed appointments (i.e., failure to cancel the appointment at least 3 hours prior to the session) will be tracked. The consequence will be that you will not receive credit for participation in the experiment and will lose the credit value of the study from possible marks associated with participation in research.

Please email psyc.ubco.research@ubc.ca with any questions or concerns that you may have regarding the Sona system, including unassigned bonus credits. Your professor does NOT have access to this information.

Research Summary Assignment (Option 2)

As an alternative to participating in a Psychology Subject Pool experiment, you may obtain subject pool credit by completing library-writing projects to a satisfactory level. Each library-writing project is worth a total of two credits.

Important Requirements

1. This project consists of reading and summarizing (in written form) a recent, peer-reviewed, primary research article.

- A “recent” article has been published within the past 12 months.
- A “peer reviewed” article is one that has been reviewed by other scholars before it is accepted – for example, it cannot be a news item, an article from a popular magazine, a notice, or a letter to the editor.
- A “primary” research article describes an experiment or study where data are collected by the authors. In other words, the article you choose to review cannot be a book review, literature review, or summary article.

2. You must choose an article published by one of the following agencies:

- The American Psychological Society - Psychological Science, Current Directions in Psychological Science, Psychological Science in the Public Interest, or Perspectives on Psychological Science.
- The American Psychological Association - www.apa.org/journals/by_title.html has a full listing.
- The Canadian Psychological Association - Canadian Psychology, Canadian Journal of Behavioural Science, or Canadian Journal of Experimental Psychology.
- The Psychonomic Society - Behavior Research Methods, Cognitive, Affective, & Behavioral Neuroscience, Learning & Behavior, Memory & Cognition, Perception & Psychophysics, or Psychonomic Bulletin & Review.

3. Other Assignment Guidelines

The summary should be about 300-500 words in length. The source must be cited and referenced in accordance with the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). The review will be graded on a pass – fail basis (2% or 0%). At least 14 days before the end of classes each term, submit the following to the course instructor:

- the article summary
- a copy of the article
- a cover page that specifies your name, student number, email address, and word count of the summary.
- the course title and number

Submitting the assignment 14 days in advance is necessary to ensure that you have an opportunity to make corrections, if required. If you do not check your email frequently, provide a phone number on the cover page.
